her days honoring his memory by clinging to her legal career he helped her build and to the remaining pieces linking them together.

And then there's Griffen who has been running from his past. Despite success as an author and investigative journalist, he's been traveling through life on autopilot. For a decade, he's chosen perilous adventures and meaningless sex over the danger of any attachments. When he finally returns home to Pittsburgh, he's slammed by the awakened memories and regret he's spent years trying to escape.

A chance encounter brings them together. Their instant desire for each other—and the bond they discover between them—shocks them both. Despite her best efforts, Althea can't resist Griffen's charm or his intriguing proposition—if she agrees to a no-strings affair with him for the two weeks he's in town, he swears he'll walk away when their time is up. Assured she can test the waters of a new life while keeping her vow never to betray her husband's memory by opening her heart to another, Althea throws herself into the escape Griffen provides her. However, their perfect plans go awry when the intensity of their connection overwhelms them both.

Will they risk it all on the chance of something great together . . . or will the power of their secrets and guilt tear them apart?

In CITY OF CHAMPIONS (November 2014), we learn more about Althea's best friend Jenna Sutherland, the gorgeous and smart doctor who always plays by the rules. Tragedy and betrayal taught Jenna early on that her safest bet was to fiercely avoid any risk, whether it is in work, life, or love. Now a respected orthopedic surgical resident on the cusp of finally breaking through in her career, she's more guarded than ever.

When injured NFL quarterback Wyatt McCoy bulldozes into her life there's no denying he's cocky, selfish, and downright dangerous—everything Jenna's sworn she doesn't want. Suddenly the levelheaded doctor finds herself facing down her greatest fear, and she's tempted to gamble all she's fought so hard to build. The two embark on an intense holiday love affair that quickly teeters on obsession, and tempts them both to think they could go all-in on a real future together. Yet Wyatt's desperation to stay on the field—and out of the operating room—lures him to take dangerous risks with Jenna's trust.

Will they win at love or lose everything—including their fragile chance at happiness?

SHANGHAI WIND (February 2015) is a special novella in THE GATEWAY TO LOVE SERIES that was featured in the limited-time Pink Shades of Words anthology, a collaboration of 18 never-before-seen short stories from bestselling romance authors that benefits the Avon Walk for Breast Cancer. For this story, we head to China for an enticing and searing tale of broken hearts hoping to mend.
